It was referred to a special committee of one lay and one clerical member from each presiding elder's district, as fonows: G. W. Williams, J. T. Wightman, F. Wood, D. R. Barton, P. G. Bowman, R. W. the interest of the Circle of Prayer. He stated that he had no speech to make. Methodist preachers need not be lectured upon the other.

preachers need not be lectured upon the objection to wars. Measures were peculiarly a praying people. The circles of prayer are composed of men of different denominations. They originated in the lattle Village of Ninety-six. In Abbeville they meet every Tuesday, At each meeting a chairman and subject of discussion are selected for the next. Every member is required to pray when called upon, and to express his opinion upon the subject of discussion; also to give an account of his experience during the past week. They do not know each other as members of different denominations, but as children of God, who meets with and blesses them. They are like objashioned Methodist love-feasts. As one result, there are three to live times as many family altars in Abbeville as before their communicament. The practice trains every one to pray. One question actice trains every one to pray. One question scussed was "what constitutes the best means promoting a religious revival?" This led to resolution to have preaching every night and ayer every morning, alternating in the differ resolution to make preasing every right the differ-oracle revery morning, alternating in the differ-int churches. Many conversions was the result, dany other similar organizations sprang up, here are now fourteen in Abbeville, as many core in Anderson, some in Laurens, Edgefield, to. They hold a convention once in three months.

rould be wrong to let these organizations go down.

Dr. Pressley was most solemnly impressed by the appearance of the body of able and intelligent ministers before him. He could not preach, but he could give a tract and talk in private; had done so, and God had blessed his labors. There is no luxury equal to that of doing good—it is an exquisite pleasure. If he thought there was one drop of sectarian blood in his veins, he would open an artery and let it out. When he went to Ninety-six, the brethren of the circle took him to their arms, and talked about the best way to get to Heaven. Love of the brethren is next to the love of God; it is the bond of union which bluds the Christian world in one common brotherhood. Love is the mainspring; but there is no pleasure without doing good. Good works is the thermometer by which to determine the warmth of the heart's affections. We want annual convocations of prayer. Daily prayer is the life of the ons of prayer. Daily prayer is the life of the tions of prayer. Daily prayer is the life of the church.

Rev. S. Leard presented the following:

Resolved, That this Conference has heard with great pleasure the communications made by Drs. J. Branch and G. W. Pressley, delegates from the Convention of Circles of Prayer in Abbeville District, and that we do heartly respond to the Christian sentiments expressed by them; and that we extend our cordin sympathies to them and the cause they represent; and that we do recommend the establishment of those circles by our preachers wherever practicable.

Mr. Leard alluded in feeling sentiments to the impression made upon his own heart by the presence of the gentlemen who represent the Convention of Circles of Prayer. He had, from boyhoed, known the last speaker. His own parents slept in the graveyard of the church where he held membership. In his early days Methodism was not well known or beloved in that vicinity. Now his old friend came here with sentiments of the warmest regard for us, He rejoleed at the change which had taken place.

Rev. J. R. Pickett seconded the resolution in a speech of most hearty welcome to the delegates of the Circles of Prayer. He was rejoiced that in

Rev. H. A. C. Walker remembered to have gone as agent of the American Hible Society many years ago, by appointment to the Church (Long Cane.) where one of the delegates worshipped. On his way a good brother asked him if he was going to preach at that seceder church. He had replied that he went with the open Bible in his hand. After preaching, he had been cordinally invited to return again, "We are drawn Logether by the Bible."

Rev. J. T. Wightman stated that for three years men incettings for prayer had been held in the Sty of Charleston, and that ministers of seven inferent denominations had united and partici-

Ruch meetings for prayer had been held in the City of Charleston, and that ministers of seven different denominations had united and particle pated in them.

Mr. T. S. Moorman stated that the Circle of Prayer originated at Ninciy-Six in 1865, by three tamen, who sought religious improvement, and meeting for that purpose in the alcove in rear of the pulpit in the Prossby terian Church. They after and object of praceling? was ably discussed. ing for that purpose in the alcove in rear of the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church. They afterwards invited friends to Join them. In July last there were from three to four hundred praying men connected with the organization. Forty or fifty delegates were in attendance upon the recent convention in Anderson. The circles are composed of only one male member. They increase the harmony of the churches. They learn men to pray. A man that had stammered, now reads and sings and prays. It makes young men do and talk, and trains them for usefulness in a higher sphere. He hopes yet to witness a great Convention of Circles of Prayer in Columbia.

For further information any one may address Major John Leland, of Laurens, secretary of the convention.

Major John Leland, of Laurens, secretary of the convention.

Mr. E. H. Buist, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Cheraw, thanked God that he had lived to see this day and this body. He alinded in touching sentiments to the results of united efforts by the different pastors and their membership in this place during the past summer. Many had been added to their number. His remarks were most appropriate, and made a deep impression upon the entire audience. He did not fear, but delighted in American associations.

Hishop Kavanaugh thought the scenes of this day augured good for the church of God in South Carolina the ensuing year. He hoped to hear of a glorious revival throughout the State. He thought the old fences which divided the denominations had taken fre and would be burned up.

It is scarcely necessary to say that the resolution of Mr. Leard were passed by a unanimous rising vote.

Bishop Andrew preached in the afternoon—or, rather, he gave the ministry a fatherly talk, which will, if is hoped, result in good.

Bishop Kavanaugh ordained the following elders amid the deepest solemnity; J. B. Platt, J. C. Crisp, J. B. Traywick, M. H. Jay. N. Alexander, J. S. Huggius, T. Gibson, J. P. Mckinaney, J. S. Kendall, R. S. Ledbetter, and J. A. Covington.

Dr. Smith preached the annual sermon to the under-graduates of the ministry at night. Of the sermon we need not speak; we thought it a good one upon the duty of preaching the Cross, but have under-stood that the Bishop in the morning discoursed from the same text which the Doctor had selected for his own use at night, and that therefore there was another selection necessitated for the latter occasion.

Rev. E. J. Meynardle preached in the Presbyte-rian Church in the morning. The Baptist Church was not occupied. Everybody seemed anxious to hear a bishop, and two heling present, more than usual interest was manifest. The Methodist Church, after the ulmost packing, refused to hold the people who came to hear, and many went away disappointed.

Rev. J. A. Porter presented the report of the Committee on the libble Cause. The report was adopted. Also, the following resolutions:

Resolved, That our confidence in the American libble Society is undiminished, and that we will, as in days past, give it our cordina suport.

Resolved, That we will welcome to our respective charges the worthy and indefatigable agent of the society for South Carolina. Rev. E. A. Bolles, and Rev. Ira T. Wyche, agent for the State of North Carolina, and that we will concern the will then in their Christian and philianthropic work.

Rev. E. A. Bolles stated that since the war the society has distributed three hundred thousand copies of the Scriptures, worth $20,000, in the Southern States.

Rev. Ira T. Wyche explained that the society acts through the agency of subordinate societies, of which there should be at least one in every county, and urged those preachers, assigned to tabor in North Carolina to do what they can for the cause.

In response, Rev. W. A. Clark pledged himself to bring up the full amount from the charge to which he may be assigned.

Br. A. E. Williams, in urging the performance of duty, contended that one-tenth was the true measure of Christian liberality—not a tenth of met profits, but gross proceeds—the donor, out of what remains, to meet expenses. "I's are not your own, one bought with a price"—and it we belong to Christ, all we have must be Ilis also. God will repay the donor. He had told a brother to give a certain sum for the support of the ministry, and he (Dr. W.) would stand security for God that it should be repaid in twelve months. The proposition was accepted, and three days thereafter the brother had absolved him from the obligation—God had paid back the whole amount. Dr. C. D. Rowell contended that our people need instruction upon the obligation to give. He thanked God that, notwithstanding heavy losses the past year, he had been able to do more than on any previous year for the support of the Gospel, and had been amply rewarded. He thinks the stewards of the church should not be continued in office unless they are faithful to their trust.

Mr. C. S. Moorman thought the Methodist Church of South Carolina had reached the point he wished to see her occupy. He believed the finances of the church should be left in the lands of the laity, the regretted that the ministry should still have so much to do with the collecting of money.

The sixth section of the plan proposes to raise $26,000 during the year—$8500 for superannuated preachers and the willows and orphans of deceased preachers; for education, $8000; for missions, $8000, and for the support of the bishops $1560. casier at 24a24 %c; sales 3800 bales; receipts 13,801. NEW YORK, December 18.—Spirits Turpentive.—The only feature of interest in the business of the past week has been the purchase for export of 400 bbls shipping order at 44c, which for a time imparted quite an improved tone to the market and an advance of ½c on March lots, but this has been partially lost and the market closes very dull at 43½c. The other sales were 675 bbls at 42a 44c merchantable, chiefly 4343½c. Receipts 441 bbls; exports 27 bbls.

Rosix.—The total sales amount to 16,600 bbls at $232 62½ for common strained, $2 95a2 00 for good six nined, $2 15a2 50 for No 2, $3a3 66 for No 1, $4 60a5 75 for paic, and include 600 bbls good, buyer's option, January, $2 10. The decided decline in European freights and scarcity of cargoes near by imparted additional strength to the market towards the close, and $2 05 was offered and refused for strained in yard. The fact is, however, that foreign markets are so well supplied and the gold premium so low, we do not deem it reasonable to anticipate any material advance. EXTRACT FROM REPORT OF AGRICULTURAL BUREAU.—COTTON.—"The present season has witnessed great activity in this culture, an increase of area cultivated, and more general and generous fertilization, and has also been characterized by drought in the scabbard States, and other causes of diminished production, which have modified the expectations of planters, yet the crop will exceed that of last year, and may reach 2,700,000." From these figures, which include the whole crop, should be deduced the Southern consumption, say 100,000 bales. The balance would be the commercial crop.
